INDIANA.

Military Commencement at De Pauw University Includes Drills and a Sham Battle. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

GREENCASTLE, May 22,-Military day at DePauw is a never-failing attraction to the public, as is shown by the large crowds who are drawn together by the annual exercises of this department of the uni versity. The field exercises of to-day were held at the ball park, out of consideration for the serious illness of a daughter of Dr. Alexander Morton, whose home is near the east campus. Fully 5,000 people repaired to the park, notwithstanding the threatening character of the weather. The various drills occupied the afternoon, but were interrupted at the close of the sham battle by a shower of rain. The display was regarded as every way creditable to the Cadets, who are officered as follows: Commandant-Lieut. R. C. Williams, United States Army.

Major—R. E. Locke.
Captains—F. M. Downey, L. S. Durham, B. F.
Gregory, F. A. Thomas, L. Bennett.
First Lieutenant and Quartermaster—H. M.

Dowling.

First Lieutenants—H. B. Ritter, G. M. Spurlock, H. H. Hadley, E. F. Brown, H. F. Metts. The following are the year's graduates: Louis Bennett. Greenville, Ill.; Frank M. Downey, Rising Sun, and Richard E. Locke, Waterloo, Ind. The school is in a prosperous condition, and the thorough members was never more apparent than to-day. The night exercises drew a large au-dience to Meharry Hall. The silent drill by the DePauw Zouaves was the principal feature of the entertainment, and was both creditable and enjoyable.

Police War Continued at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, May 22.-There is a new phase to the police war to-night. The lawyers for the Metropolitan or State force secured an injunction against the superintendent of the city police, the City Council and the city government generally, restraining them from interfering with the police force. There were two roll-calls this evening, the force being about evenly divided, same as during the past two days, but the injunction went into effect immediately afterward. The hearing is set for Monday.

The Metropolitan people filed an appeal bond to the Supreme Court when the Supreme Court when the Superior Court declared the law unconstituted the superior Court declared the superior Court tional, and they claim that this should stay all proceedings. The Superior Court issued no writ of ouster, but the city people undertook to take possession of the police department by serving a copy of the decree on the heads of the Metropolitan force. The Council police board this evening had notices served by the city marshal on all policemen to report to the city superintendent or show cause next Wednesday why they should not be removed for in-subordination. The Metropolitan board made a proposition last night to surrender the force and let the question go to the Supreme Court, but the city people declined dence to-night's proceedings.

Monon Passenger Train Ditched. Special to the Indianapons Journal.

LAFAYETTE, May 22 .- The Monon railroad had a bad passenger wreck at 3 o'clock this morning, about a half mile south of Lafayette Junction. A broken rail threw all the cars off the track. The mail and express cars were turned partially upon their sides, and the smoker was thrown nearly upside down. The coach and sleeper were both pulled from the rails, the trucks broken, and the cars themselves forced partially down the slight embankment. The damage to the cars is considerable. Conductor Brown had a piece of window-glass driven into his thigh, and, when extracted, the piece was found to be nearly four inches in length. Charles Cutler, an expressman was bit in the back, and is severely hurt. Jos. Blistain was hurt in the foot, and several others received scratches. The great wonder is how any one could be in the cars and escape death. The smoker was upside down. There were some forty passengers on the train. They were brought to this city and cared for. None were prevented continuing their journey when the relief train was made up.

Another Mabbitt Family Tragedy. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FRANKFORT, May 22.-George Mabbitt, a prominent farmer, was to-day instantly killed by hightning while returning home from the city. His little boy occcupied the seat with him in the wagon, and escaped with a elight shock. One of the horses was killed and the other badly injured. George Mabbitt was a cousin of the four Mabbitt children whose names have been so frequently be-fore the public. Lucila Mabbitt was murdered by her lover Green, who was brought back from Texas and lynched a few years ago. The other three children, Orvis, Mont and Minnie were arrested last winter, charged with murdering Minnie's baby. She was acquitted and the two boys are awaiting their trial.

Hail-Storm Does Much Damage. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, May 22 .- This afternoon a terrific rain and wind-storm passed over this city, doing much damage, especially to fruit. Hail-stones fell with such force as to perfectly strip many of the trees, breaking windows in a frightful manner. One end of Over's large window-glass factory was blown in. The roof of Young & Kisster's hardware store was torn off, and many others in the city were damaged, among them being the flint-glass-works building. Timber throughout the country was badly damaged. A Big Four passenger train ran into a tree east of Muncie, badly damaging the engine. Perry Harlum, driving a team east of the city, had one horse killed and another badly injured by a tree falling on them.

Arrested for Whipping Inmates.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CORYDON, May 22.-The superintendent of the county poor asylum, Silas Stover, and his wife had a preliminary trial to-day for secault and battery upon two female inmates of the asylum, and were held to the Criminal Court. The women were most brutally beaten, judging from the wounds they exhibited at the pre-liminary trial. Their backs were literally cut to pieces with lashes. To make the matter more heinous, one of the women is seventy-four years old, and the other is a weakly cripple. Stover and his wife did not deny doing the whipping, but claimed that they were justified on account of some trivial offense of the wemen. There is a great deal of indignation over the matter.

Refused to Bury the Hatchet. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, May 22 .- It is customary in the rural districts of this county for the members of church denominations not living near a church to conduct weekly prayermeetings at the different homes. A few nights since quite a gathering assembled at the home of John Wells, north of Muncie. There were present Charles Clark and John Cooper, two farmers, who had formerly engaged in a difficulty. Clark, desirous of rying the natchet, chered Cooper, who, in turn, smashed Clark on the nose, felling him to the floor. The injured man arose, picked up a chair and nearly beat the life out of Cooper before the pray-ing congregation could restore peace and proceed with the meeting. Both men were

New Sons of Veterans Camp. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEWPORT, May 22.- A Sons of Veterans camp was organized at this place last night with thirteen members. Comrade R. E. Stephens acted as mustering officer. The camp was named Burnside Camp, No 887. The following officers were elected and installed: Bird H. Davis, captain; Morton Hollingsworth, first lieutenant; James Barker, second lieutenant; Walter M. Place, first sergeant; Henry V. Nixon, quartermaster sergeant; W. S. McConnell, sergeant of the guard; William F. Thornton, chaplain; Dave Sanders, camp guard; Bill Hatt, corporal of the guard.

Tried to Wreck the Monon Vestibule. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FRANKFORT, May 22.—The passengers on the Monon vestibule Chicago limited, passing through this city at 12:40 o'clock today, had a narrow escape from what might have been a disastrous affair. Four miles south of Frankfort some one had built a crib of rails on the track, and the engineer got the train checked barely in time to avert a frightful wreck. The engine's headlight was torn off and the pilot broken. No clew to the perpetrators of the dastardly trick is yet learned.

One Guilty Man Caught,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, May 22.—The better class of people in this vicinity are determined to put an end to the wholesale slaughter of fish in White river by dynamite. Thousands are being destroyed in this manner, and the original sport of pole-fishing has been almost ruined. This merning Bluford James was arraigned before the Mayor on a charge of fishing with dynamite and pleaded guilty. He was fined $10 and costs. The officers are looking for several more persons who are said to have been engaged in the same business.

Run Down by the Cars.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW ALBANY, May 22.-A telegram from Atlanta, Ga., this afternoon, announced the horrible death of John Thornton, of this city. This morning Thornton was walking through the Eastern Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad yards, when he was run down by a freight train. His body was literally cut to pieces. The remains will be sent to this city for burial. The deceased was unmarried.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WINCHESTER, May 22.—One of the most disastrous rain, hail and wind-storms vis- 1891,-Rainsduring the night; cooler; cloudy ited this city and vicinity to-day in the history of the place. The cherries and other fruits were stripped from trees and bushes, while the streets are covered with green foliage. Hundreds of windows were broken. Growing crops are greatly damaged. After the storm hundreds of dead black birds were tound.

Sale of Fat Cattle.

Special to the Indianapolus Journal. COLUMBUS, May 22.—S. Webber Smith, a farmer and stock-dealer, residing one mile east of this city, to-day sold to Eastman & Co., of Jersey City, 185 head of fat cattle for $10,964. One fat steer weighed 2,280 pounds. This is the largest sale of fat cattle ever made in this county. The cattle were bought for export, and left this city by fast freight.

Organized a Pythian Temple.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, May 22.-Mrs. S. K. Hagins, grand senior of Grand Temple, instituted a Pythian temple here to-day of thirty members. Twenty-two of the Knights and members of the Portland Temple assisted in the work of organizing.

Burial of a Prominent Mason.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, May 22.—The funeral of S. A. Wilson, this afternoon, was one of the largest ever seen in this city. Rev. F. H.

Hays, of the Presbyterian Church, pro-nounced the funeral sermon. Muncie Com-mandery Knights Templars were in charge, assisted by thirty-six Knights from Ander-son and thirty-three Scottish Rite members from Indianapolis, who came in a special ILLINOIS.

Condition of Crops Has Not Been So Promising for a Large Yield in Ten Years. SPRINGFIELD, May 22.—The May circular of the State Board of Agriculture, issued to-day, declares that, notwithstanding the fears expressed during the winter as to the amount of damage done by the Hessian fly, the winter and spring has been so favorable to the growth of wheat that the condition is far above the average. Never before at this date since 1880 has the condition been so promising for a large yield. The average condition for the State is six points above normal. The area sown to wheat is unusually large, being 1,364,000 acres. The condition in the northern division is put down at 103 per cent., and in the central and southern at 108.

Rye is reported in an equally good condition. Oats seeding was delayed by spring rains, and the condition is but 90 per cent. The fruit crop is expected to be the argest ever known.

Sued Her Husband for Damages. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. DANVILLE, May 22.-Mamie Fera has commenced suit in the Circuit Court against her husband, Charles Fers, a wealthy merchant of this city, for $5,000 damages on account of alleged cruel treatment. She also has a divorce suit pending.

Brief Mention. A small black bug is said to be seriously damaging corn near Hillsboro. The reports from Jacksonville say that the rain has drowned the corn flea. A soldiers' monument will be erected at Monticello by the G. A. R. post in that city. A railroad laborer named Stephens was run over and instantly killed by a freight train at Odin. George Jones, a mulatto, has been arrested at Litchfield, charged with the murder of Mrs. T. C. Clarke at Edwardsville, early in April.

THE MAY MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Element of Success Is a Chorus, and This Has Been Secured Under the Direction of Barus.

The sale of festival tickets continues in a way that indicates a good attendance at all the concerts. One feature of the sale at once gratifying and encouraging to the management is the increased demand for seats from residents of other towns and cities in the State. To arrange a fine musical programme and secure good performers for such an entertainment is a matter comparatively easy, and that may be accomplished on the first attempt. To convince the public that the entertainment is worth their while is a thing not to be accomplished in advance, but is a matter of time and repetition. When the series of May festivals was first planned and undertaken Indianapolis had not a reputation as a music center, and the enterprise was looked upon with some doubt by outsiders who were accustomed to look elsewhere for such attractions. The repeated success of the festivals has at last taught residents of the State that the elements necessary for the successful carrying out of such an undertaking exist here, namely an anthoniasm that lends itself to namely, an enthusiasm that lends itself to co-operation in musical work, and an earnestness among musicians that makes such work continuous. The most important manifestation of this spirit appears in the chorus of seven hundred voices, which, under the training of Professor Barus, has attained a degree of power and accuracy that wins the admiration of the soloists, than whom are no severer critics. Practically, this chorus is a permanent organization, for its training has not been a matter of a few months for this particular one, but has been continued from year to year. Professor Barus has a wide reputation as a chorus director and his skill and patience, aided by a willing body of singers, have brought about admirable results. Upon the chorus really depends the success of the festival. Individual performers may be heard elsewhere, the orchestra can act independently of all others, but without the chorus the distinct-ive feature of a music festival is lacking.

Indianapolis looks upon this assembly of singers with pride, and a feeling that the success of the coming concerts will be largely due to its efforts. The managers deserve especial credit for their enterprise in securing the services of the celebrated Thomas orch—a for this occasion. This celebrated conductor and his musicians have but just established themselves in Chicago, where they will prepare to preside over the music department of the world's fair, and this is one of the first opportunities offered to welcome them to the West. With the combination of a great chorus, an unequaled orchestra ply the prospect for the coming week is one upon which the Indiana public may well congratulate itself. The ladies of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Society will serve ices in the corridor each evening of the festival.

DR. BUCHTEL'S LECTURE.

He Entertains an Audience with Facts Learned in London and Other European Cities.

Last evening, at Central-avenue Church, its pastor, Rev. Henry A. Buchtel, D. D., delivered a lecture to a large and appreciative audience. Dr. Buchtel spoke of "A Summer in Europe," and in the course of his address remarked that it was Heinrich Heine who said, after seeing London, "I have seen the greatest wonder which the world can show." "Ten years ago," the Doctor continued, "John Bright said in a speech at Birmingham: 'A great many of you have been to London, and yet you know nothing about it. I have spent six months there every year for forty years, and yet I know nothing about it. I do not believe that there is a man in it who is fairly acquainted with all the parts and districts of that vast city.' The history of the world can show no such city as London. Its statistics are all on a scale so gigautic that they are difficult to grasp. It is only by contrast that we come to have any adequate appreciation of the amazing facts about London. In 1881, when the last census was taken, it was shown that the population within a fifteen-mile radius from Charing Cross was nearly five millions. It is expected that the census of the present year will show the population within a twenty-mile radius from Charing Cross to be 8,000,000. The population of the first sixteen cities of the United States agrees as a second of the control of the contro gregates 8,080,337, as shown by our census of last year. That includes all our cities whose population reaches 200,000, namely, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo, New Orleans, Pittsburg, Washington, Detroit and Milwaukee. In the realm of England and Wales every fourth man is a Londoner. In the United States every eighth man lives in some on of our first sixteen cities. "In London there are more Roman Catholics than in Rome; more Jews than in all Palestine; more Scotchmen than in Aberdeen; more Welshmen than in Cardiff, and more Irishmen than in Belfast. And yet, all these, with all other classes not distinctly English, constitute only a small fraction of the population of the great city. The most conspicuous fact about London is its distinctively English character. Only one man in sixteen in this vast population is from outside of England. We have no American city that is so distinctively American as London is distinctively English. The English people are therefore responsible for what London is in such sense as we Americans are not responsible for what any American city is. Within the area protected by the metropolitan police are 700,000 houses. Within the district known as the twenty-mile radius from Charing Cross are nearly a million houses. The streets of the metropolitan police area, placed end to end, would make a street which would extend from New York to San Francisco. nibuses first came into use in London in 1829. There are now about one thousand omnibuses in daily service. A driver covers about eighty miles a day. So, in the course of a year, he travels more than once around the world. All the omnibus lines carry about ninety million passengers yearly. The under-ground railways carry about 140,000,000 pas-sengers yearly. In the course of a year, then, we may say that the omnibuses and underground railroads of London carry passengers numbering nearly four times the total population of the United States."

Dr. Buchtel then exhibited large photographs of world-famous monuments and buildings, which were described in detail. The list included the Albert memorial, the Royal Albert Hall, St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey and Spurgeon's Tabernacle. Photographs of Notre Dame and the Madeline were shown in the Paris list. The Cathedral at Antwerp was shown with Rubens's pictures of the elevation of the cross and the descent from the cross. The most perfect of all Gothic cathedrals—that at Cologne—was shown. The lecturer then described the most interesting places in Copenhagen and in Stockholm.

The lecture was given in aid of the organ fund of the church, but as no admission fee was charged, a considerable sum was collected at the close of the evening.

Purchases for the Fire Depurtment. The Board of Public Safety yesterday contracted with the Fire Extinguisher Company, of Chicago, for a chemical engine and a hook-and-ladder truck. The price of the former is $2,000 and of the latter $1,500. They are to be delivered in ninety days. The new chemical will be stationed at the house on Sixth street, and the new truck at headquarters, on Massa-chusetts avenue. The large, heavy truck now stationed there will be removed to the quarters of company No. 7, on Maryland street. This move, the board says, will put a truck near the center of the city, where most needed, thus obviating the necessity of a long run to reach a dangerous fire. The insurance on the Prospect engine-house expired yesterday, but as only one other company sta-tion is insured, the board concluded not to renew the insurance. They express the belief that the hose and engine houses will not burn until the rest of the city has met a similar fate. The board appointed a Republican on the police force in the person of M. H. Durbin, subject to examination by Dr. Earp.

Gave Mr. Shaffer a Cane. The Brotherhood of Street-railway Employes yesterday presented J. C. Shaffer, ex-president of the company, with a handsome gold-headed cane as token of its appreciation of him as man and an official. The meeting occurred at 1 o'clock in the mornmeeting occurred at 1 o'clock in the morning, the working hours of most of the members necessitating holding it at that time, but Mr. Shaffer was, nevertheless, present. The presentation speech was made by J. P. Riggs, and the recipient replied in a feeling way. He expressed his deep appreciation of the spirit in which the gift was made, and said his association with the men had always afforded him a great deal of pleasure. He was interested in their welfare, and willing as he was to lay down the and willing as he was to lay down the heavy responsibilities of the position he had lately held, he could not but regret the severance of the association. Mr. Shafter's remarks were greatly appreciated by the Economic Society Doings. The Economie Society met in Mansur Hall last night to receive the report of the committee on permanent organization. Only a partial report was ready and the committee asked for further time, with authority to call a meeting when its work is done. The movement in many of its bearings was discussed at length and the request granted.

A meeting of the committee was then announced for next Friday night in the Bates House club-room and an invitation extended to all who desire to attend.
